LIFE WITHOUT GLUTEN

Celiac disease is the permanent intolerance to gluten, a set of proteins found in wheat, oats, barley and rye (TACC). For celiac disease, nutrition is very important because proper nutrition is the basis of treatment. Products "Manjar" may purchase by the consumer and by celiaco not celiaco that choose to be healthier. Gluten Free line that is currently occurring has a supply of nutrients added, including proteins of high biological value as whey protein and essential fatty acids and fiber, mainly from the seeds used (chia, flax and quinoa) in developing them, helping to maintain a good health. The organoleptic characteristics thereof (flavor, color, aroma, texture) is also improved to be similar to conventional. These products will be found not only in health food stores, but also on all supermarket shelves in the country and the world.
